Weather: The odd passing light snow shower is possible, otherwise a bright morning will give way to cloudy and rather dull conditions by afternoon. Patchy rain, summit snow and hill fog developing through afternoon.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 700m: 70% falling 20% through afternoon.

Visibility: Passing snow showers will reduce visibility to a few hundred metres and bring cloud down to around 400m, but these will pass through quickly. Very good visibility then expected through the bulk of the day, reducing late afternoon as areas of cloud develop above 500m.
